Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 06 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain and gales morning, severe gales and showers afternoon.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain in the morning, heavy and persistent for much of the west, with gales around the coasts. Colder, clearer, showery conditions pushing in from the west in the afternoon and winds becoming severe gale force in the northwest.

Tonight:
Frequent showers in the west, merging at times in the far north. Dry and largely clear in the east. Very windy, severe gales or storm force winds in the north.

Sunday:
Rain or showers continuing in the north. Strong gusty west or northwest winds for most, severe gales, locally storm force, in the north and east. Winds slowly easing late afternoon.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Turning wet, windy and mild on Monday. Remaining windy with showers in the west, drier and brighter in the east on Tuesday and Wednesday, temperatures nearer normal for mid-November.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.